Outside Areas Not Parasites, Says Tom Perry

Thomas K. Perry, president of Carmel Unincorporated, does not agree with Frank Putnam's statement in last week's Pine Cone that Carmel suffers from "parasitic growth on its perimeter."

"We are not parasites," declares Mr. Perry, speaking for the unincorporated outside areas which Mr. Putnam thinks should be annexed to the city.

Mr. Perry made this statement yesterday following a d i n n e r meeting of Carmel Unincorporated directors the evening before in Pine Inn.

At this meeting, he appointed a committee to study, define and bring up to date the aims and objectives of the residential districts surrounding Carmel. Included in the committee's explorations will be reactions to annexation.

The committee composed of Mrs. Gordon Reid, James Parkes, James Pruitt, Harold Arnot, and Captain Archer M. Allen, all Carmel Unincorporated directors, will report back to Mr. Perry and other directors of the organization in two weeks.

At this time plans will be made for a Carmel Unincorporated public meeting. Residents of Carmel Point, the Walker Tract, Hatton Fields, Mission Fields, North and South Carmel Hills, Carmel Woods and Rancho Rio Vista are represented by directors on the board of Carmel Unincorporated. In addition to the directors already mentioned, these areas are represented by Enos Fouratt, George Russell, William Eklund and Kirby Low.

Tom Perry disagrees with Frank Putnam's statement that Carmel provides municipal facilities to the areas above, but receives no support from them.

I like collecting trading stamps to paste them in a book and trade them for electric lamps or pots in which to cook. I like to know they re given free — a profit-sharing plan, which business people give to may while I give what I can.

I find that life is like that, too, a trade of smile for smile; you do the part that you can do, or walk an extra mile, and friendly faces soon appear, at times some helping hands, or just a word to give you cheer from one who understands.

lt's true we're bottled more or less in life's gyrating jeil, where some feel throttled in the stress or seek some ghostly greil. We being our heads against the wall, or just forget it's there, and trade our bumps for what I call reciprocating

If you have problems, so have I, so lay it on the line — we have no time to moan or cry, much less to pout or pine. If you have sympathy to give, remember if you please, there's lots of dogs who have to live their whole life scratching fleas.

Editor's Column

Carmel on Tuesday was the victim of a "flood" advertising campaign. In every one of the 4,200 boxes at the post office was a large envelope containing an advertisement for an out-of-town business.

By late afternoon mounds of this discarded advertising material filled every waste container and spilled out over the post office floor. Carmelites were horrified!

The advertising deluge happened to coincide with new janitorial services. The man with the new contract failed to get the discarded advertising out overnight for the garbage company to pick up. That is why everyone who went to the post office early in the morning yesterday saw what happens to almost all outside "flood" advertising material.

It goes into waste containers!
In addition to the 4,200 envelopes legally distributed in post office boxes Tuesday, another 1,600 were placed in rural route boxes. Total 5,800:

One of Carmel's unique characteristics is that residents go to the post office to get their mail. As we prefer to have no sidewalks in the residence districts, and no house numbers, we cannot have home mail delivery. We want to be unique . . and we are boxholders.

So we must suffer such "floods" as Tuesdays. If we had home delivery, everyone of those 5,800 envelopes would have had to be addressed to each and every house number in every block. This would have been an expensive undertaking and probably would not have been considered by the advertiser.

However, there was one redeeming feature. All the expense of the "flood" was carried by one out-of-town advertiser;

There are other kinds of "flood" advertising placed in our boxes that are printed by out-of-town concerns and supported to an extent by local merchants.

We hope Tuesday's shocking litter showed them what happens to most of this form of advertising.

And the persons who withinkingly use this form of advertising are, so often, the first to ask a newspaper to give them free space in the editorial columns of the community paper when they espouse a cause, or join an organization which wants publicity.

The hometown paper is generous because worthy causes and groups work for the good of the community.

Board Of Education Considers Appeal On Court Mandate

Absence from an organizational meeting, as far as the Carmel Unified School District board of education is concerned, means election to office. In a few short minutes yesterday afternoon, trustees elected Dr. Robert S. Newton, who was not present, to second term as president of the board.

Clayton Neill Jr. arrived late to find he will again serve as clerk.

Then in study session, the board and Superintendent Medill Bair faced a transportation problem in Upper Carmel Valley.

On July 18, Superior Court Judge Anthony Brazil ruled that the Carmel school district must furnish school bus transportation in September for eight children in the Robert Manjares and Marion Wallace families that live in the remote Paloma Creek area.

These children have not attended school since October 22 when the board terminated school bus transportation at the Hastings Reservation, ten miles (Continued on Page Sixteen) The young man, above, is day-dreaming about a wonderful Western-style Fourth of July celebration. Boys with similar ideas will be setting off fire-crackers Saturday evening as dusk creeps over Carmel beaches, the only place where fire-works are allowed.

Carmel has no formal Independence Day celebration. Instead, the town custom is for families to eat a picnic supper on the beach. The result is a huge community party. Neighbors greet neighbors. Friends welcome friends who have come to Carmel just to celebrate the Fourth at family beach supper reunions.

Persons who do not want to run the risk of sand in their food, drive along Scenic Drive as night falls to see the show.

And it is quite a show. Silhouetted against bonfires are the dark figures of children and parents moving through the rites of setting off fireworks.

Then come the explosions, the whizzes, the crackles, as fountains of light, blazing comets, whirring circles and tiny stars illuminate the darkness or create an aura in fog.

Clouds of smoke drift off the beach to be lost amid the pines. And the smell of sulphur tingles (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Sunset Committee Starts Study For Community Center

Members of the Sunset Committee, charged last night by Mayor Herbert Blanks with the responsibility of making "the mold to form the future of Carmel," lost no time in setting meetings for subcommittees named by Chairman Frank Putnam.

Each of the three groups decided their first objective should be a thorough exploration of Sunset School and its premises before proceeding with the preparation of recommendations for the conversion of the school into a cultural and community center.

For med in accordance with three directives issued by the city council, the subcommittees will explore (1) all logical uses and classes of occupancy; (2) feasibility of use of the existing structures and possible requirements for new buildings; (3) fiscal requirements for the maintenance and development of a cultural and community center.

There is a family reunion in the Jack C. Herron home at Casanova and Ninth. First to arrive with her husband and three children, Christopher, Linda and Helen, was Schatzi (Mrs. Leonard Joy) the Herron's elder daughter, from Glenridge, New Jersey. They will stay until August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Stetson (Gretchen Herron) who make their home in Merilo Park, are here with their young son, Carleton Dale. They will stay for the holiday week-end.

Schatzi and Gretchen both "grew up" in Carmel and old school friends are gathering in the Herron home for "I remember when" sessions.

Horans Feted

Bon voyage parties galore are being given for Larry and Jean Horan and their young family who are leaving for two years in Santa Domingo the middle of the month.

Larry, who is a law partner of Senator Fred Farr, has been appointed representative of the Peace Corps to the Dominican Republic, in an administrative capacity. Jean is in a whirl of packing, not only clothing but the favorite toys belonging to the Horan children, Kevin, who is nine; Kathleen, seven; Maureen, five; and Stephen, four years

Mr. and Mrs. Horan were honor guests at a dinner party given by the Edwin L. McPhees of Carmel Valley early last week.

A swim and fun party that included the children was given by the Horans' neighbors the week before at Saddle Mountain Ranch and on Saturday evening a gala barbecue for the travelers was given by the Blair Mc-Donalds at their home.

Jolly Roger Party

Carmel restaurateur Arthur L. Beaudin entertained Carmel, Monterey, Salinas and Watsonville members of the press and radio, plus Monterey city officials, at dinner on Tuesday evening in his dramatic brand new Jolly Roger Restaurant on Municipal Wharf No. 2 in Monterey.

During the cocktail hour in the circular lounge, the genial host introduced and mixed his guests with the "savoir faire" of long experience. Dinner was served in the great balconied dining room overlooking the bay crowded with colorful fishing boats . . . a magnificent vista of land and

With Monterey's Mayor George Clemens heading the table, some 40 guests enjoyed a gourmet meal, conversation and cordiality.

Host Beaudin's Jolly Roger tavern in Carmel has long been a favorite dining spot for residents and visitors.

Neil in England

Neil, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Giarratana, took to the air and arrived in London just 24 hours after his sister Patricia's wedding on June 14.

A student at Harvard University graduate school of business administration, Neil will be in England through the summer with the Ford of England marketing division as part of his training course. He has already found time for a visit to his two aunts. Mrs. Giarratana's sisters, who live in Edinburgh and Sterling in Scotland.

Next week Neil will cross the channel to visit his former Stanford University roommate and fraternity brother, Mauritz de Blanck, who, born in the Hague, Holland, is now an American citizen and in the U.S. Army, serving in France. Mauritz was a houseguest of the Giarratanas and made many friends here when he and Neil were undergraduates at Stanford.

As adventurers in northern Montana, Bob and Bernice Little and two of their sons, Larry and Kenneth, saw wondrous sights.

Bob left four days in advance and flew with Dr. Dexter Whitcomb and Paul Porter to the Madison River for fishing. After three days his companions left and Bernice, with the boys, came along in their car and gave Dad a lift. They had already been to Reno, Feather River Canyon and Salt Lake City where Bernice was

She Will Tour Ten Countries

Gloria Gleichner, the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Gleichner of Rancho Rio Vista, was one of the 12 boys and girls who left on Sunday for a two-months tour of Europe under the auspices of Kennolyn Camp of Soquel.

Gloria, who is a sophomore at Monterey Peninsula College and graduated from Carmel High School in 1962, has attended Kennolyn Camp for the past three summers. The camp, in its 20th year, with emphasis on social studies as well as sports, is open to boys and girls age six to 18 years. While on tour this summer Gloria, as a member of the group, will be a guest in private homes of ten different countries. She will also be taken to museums, theaters and historic spots.

On Saturday evening Gloria was the honor guest at an informal bon voyage party in her home. Her sisters, Linda, a student at Carmel High School; Susan, who attends Carmel Junior High, and young Benjamin, who is enrolled at the Bishop Kip School, greeted relatives and friends who came to bid farewell to the traveler.

Joins All Saints' Clergy

Returning to Carmel after an absence of two years, the Reverend Samuel E. Smith, for the balance of the summer, will be a part-time member of the staff of clergy at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

In September Mr. Smith will become priest-in-residence at the York School for Boys in Monterey where he will instruct in English and social studies.

Mr. Smith is the son of the Sam S. Smiths of Carmel. He was ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church in June, 1962, in Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, and took up his duties in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, where the Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe, former rector of All Saints' Church, is now rector. Mr. Smith was ordained a priest in March of last year.

Nikki Rodeo Secretary

Nikki Shorey, who will be a senior in both agricultural business management and ornamental horticulture at California State Polytechnic College next year, has been elected by members of the college's Rodeo Club to the office of secretary for the 1965 annual Poly Royal intercollegiate championship rodeo. This event attracts contestants from throughout the West.

Nikki is a graduate of Carmel High School. Her mother is Mrs. Mary L. Shorey of Carmel Valley.

In Gordo Land

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Arriola and their son, Carlin, left Sunday for two months in Mexico. They flew first to Mexico City and from there will go to Oaxaca which will be their headquarters for the rest of the time they are

The trip is a present for Carlin who graduated from Carmel High School last month: For the first time he will see and explore the country which his father uses as the locale for his syndicated comic strip "Gordo," which appears in newspapers all over the United States.

News From the Shorts

Mr. and Mrs. John Short and their children, Manda, Lenci and Jody, will leave Scotland the middle of this month for a trip on the continent. They plan to spend over a month visiting Denmark, France, Germany and Italy before returning to settle in England.

This past year, John has been doing postgraduate work in English at Edinburgh University. Next year he will have advanced graduate status while working for a B. Litt, degree at Oxford University. He was a member of the MPC faculty before going abroad.

P.E.O. Luncheon

A luncheon for members, also unaffiliated and non-resident members, of the P.E.O. Sister-hood will be held on July 11 at La Playa Hotel at 12:30 p.m. Hostesses will be the members of Chapter HT of Pacific Grove.

The three Peninsula chapters of the P.E.O., in rotation, sponsor luncheons each month as a means of acquainting newcomers to the area with the organization's activities.

Reservations for the forthcoming luncheon should be made before July 9 with either Mrs. L. W. Bowhay (375-3319) or Mrs. Marie Craige (372-0733).

Peace Corps Trainee

Barbara Dahl of Carmel Valley is among 70 Peace Corps Volunteers currently in training at the University of Missouri at Kansas City for assignments in Colombia, South America.

The volunteers, young men and women from all parts of the United States, arrived in Kansas City on June 19 to begin a rigorous 11-week training period. They will fly to Colombia in mid-September and Miss Dahl will be assigned to one of the larger Colombian cities to work in urban slum areas.

Nix Family's Summer

The Dudley Nix family are having an exciting summer! Dudley has been appointed coordinating manager of the Cal-Neva Lodge at Tahoe and Joanne has brought back rave reports of the lodge's beauty plus not such a great rave about her luck in games. "A couple of dollars was all that was needed to prove to me that I'd better just be sociable and admire scenery," Joanne reports.

Daughter Sherri is in Holly-wood, on the set 'round the clock, in the cast of Elvis Presley's forthcoming picture.

Joanne, the Nix's elder daughter, is teaching fifth and sixth grade drama in Pacific Grove summer school.

chestra will arrive, followed in rapid succession by chorale singers, the woodwind section, the brass section and finally, the soloists. Personally greeted at festival headquarters by Mrs. Alistair MacKay, executive secretary, the participants new to the festival are escorted by volunteers to the motels or private homes where rooms have been reserved for them. They also are given maps of Carmel with carefully drawn directions showing the most direct route between their "homes" and Sunset auditorium, where they will spend almost all of their waking hours from now until the end of the festival on July 26. Later, after being settled, they will quickly learn the ropes from the "old-timers."

Maestro Sandor Salgo concentrates now on a most intensified rehearsal period with each section until the entire ensemble has arrived, and then begins the final "dress rehearsals" of the magnificent baroque period works to be presented throughout the

Among the highlights of this year's festival will be an uncut performance of the Mass in B minor, the Mozart "Great" Mass in C minor, and the Handel "L'Allegro ed il Penseroso," plus morning and afternoon recitals.

Benefit Tomorrow To Send Girls To AAU Swim Meet

To send two Carmel students, members of the Carmel Swim Team and the Fort Ord Ordettes, as Peninsula representatives to the Amateur Athletic Union National Championships in New York next month, a benefit dance and show have been planned by SOS, the "Send Our Swimmers' Committee, for tomorrow evening at Saddle Mountain Ranch in Carmel Valley.

The show, featuring the Ordettes, Junior Pacific AAU synchronized swimming champions, will raise funds to cover costs of sponsoring two of their members, Marilyn Lane, 15, and her sister Marsha, 13, of Carmel Valley, in the national competition.

The benefit event will begin at 8 p.m. Entertainment during the evening of dancing will include as repetition of the Ordettes' successful performance at last Saturday's dedication ceremonies of the Carmel Valley Community Pool.

Also featured will be entertainers Ako Ito, classical guitarist from Pebble Beach; "Mike" Sherry and Eleanor Wallace, folk singers; KIDD disc jockey Dave Bennett on banjo and bagpipes, all from Carmel; and others, including "surprises." Music for dancing will be provided by Phil Stock and his group, and refreshments will be available.

Tickets may be purchased this week for a contribution of $2 at the real estate offices of Gladys Johnston and Robert Ross, or at the Carmel Plaza Sport Shop and Jax Freeze, or on the evening of the event, at the entrance to Saddle Mountain Ranch, Schulte Road, just west of Carmelo elementary school in Carmel Valley.

Donn Squire, men's national AAU synchronized swimming solo ehampion and coach of the Ordettes, is optimistic about the national chances of the Lane sisters. "The only problem," he says, "is financing."

Such similar teams as the San Francisco Merionettes, defeated by the Ordettes in the 1963 Pacific Championships, have a yearly budget of $10,000, according to Squire. The Ordettes, with under $300 in their treasury, must depend upon the community for assistance.

All entertainment and facilities for this event will be contributed, and those who cannot attend are urged by the committee to send along their contribution to SOS, Box 2079, Carmel.

White Oaks Theatre Audience Delighted By 'The Boy Friend'

"There's a theatre in the valley ---" that sounds like merry ditty and it is, when the valley is our own Carmel Valley and the theatre, the White Oaks, where Thursday through Sunday evenings 16 young and talented thespians are romping through the delightful musical razz of the roaring twenties, "The Boy Friend."

As the opener of their sixth season in the skillfully remodelled barn theatre, the show that earned New York raves throughout its phenomenal, Broadway run, is a winner and an excellent vehicle for the young and beautiful.

Producer Sally Hughes Church; director and choreographer Gale Peterson; musical director Chris Nance; costumer Eleanor Stolts and technical director Donald Mulderick have done a commendable professional job. But, for this reviewer, it was the effervescence and wholehearted determination of the young players that put the show right up front in the Peninsula's entertainment fare.

In the romantic leads, Mary Bridgit Mulkey as Polly Browne and Les Medall as Tony, played their roles, sang and danced with professional assurance. Despite their youth, both have had impressive experience; Miss Mulkey, in her native Texas in widely varied dramatic roles; Les Medall with a lengthy roster of television appearances to his Marilyn Fowler as Maisie and Mitch Marco as Bobby ∀an Husen were show-stoppers in their two song and dance numbers, "Won't You Charleston With Me?" and "Safety in Numbers." While their voices have yet to be proved professional material, their dancing was top drawer!

Lovely to look at and contagiously gay were Sandra Lundwall, Mary Pattie Mitchell, Dolph Baumann, L. Alan Lugo and Raymond Allex and Renee Wurzmann as they skipped, sang and flirted through their supporting roles. (I regretted that the talented danseuse, Renee Wurzmann was not given an opportunity to solo, her grace and charm always entrance me).

For top professional ability laurels must go to Sally Champlin as Madame Dubonnet, the French school mistress with a slightly lurid past. Miss Champlin is possessed of a beautiful trained voice and acting talent.

Diana Kathleen Draper as the French maid whose dancing, singing and coquetry are delightful, also deserves similar laurels. Jerry DeWilde in the "straight" role of the father of Polly Browne, played the bland mil lionaire with ease and assurance.

Kate Porter as Lady Brockhurst was riotously funny to look at and listen to She was as English and "heavy" as bread pudding, a perfect foil for her lord, Chris Milo, who was for me, the young actor joined the White Oaks Theatre group last summer. Versatile, with an outstanding talent for impersonation, Mr. Milo is destined to go far in the world of the theater.

A high point of the evening was the appearance of internationally praised dancer, Angene Feves. Her solo "Carnival Tango" won an ovation.

If, perchance you are "middle aged" you will find "The Boy Friend" a nostalgic delight, if you are in the young or fairly young bracket - the flip young things in their dancing togs of the twenties will send you into paroxysms of glee. You'll have a grand time at the White Oaks Theatre any evening, Thursdays through Sundays through July and early August. It's best to make reservations!

Are you losing 1/3of your savings income?

There's no safer place for your money than a savings account. And there is one kind of savings account that earns 1/3 more. It's a Guaranty Savings account.

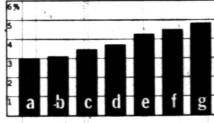

4.85% a year makes a big difference. Most savings accounts pay only 3½% a year, and 3½% is not a bad rate of interest. But it doesn't give your savings much chance to grow. Guaranty's current annual rate of 4.85% pays you 1/3 more the very first year. That's the interest gap.

The interest gap widens year after year. The longer you keep your savings at Guaranty Savings, the more profit you make. Earnings are compounded every three months, at the current yearly rate of 4.85%. At that rate, your savings would double in only 14 years, 6 months. Without any help from you. That's 5 years faster than savings paying only

The Sur Coast

THE FULL SCHEDULE OF CAMPING and recreational activities is now in operation at Pfeiffer Big Sur State Park. The park, noted for its beautiful groves of redwood and oak, the Big Sur River and the many walking and hiking trails, has over 200 campsites. During the vacation period these are usually filled daily, and, according to D. D. Royer, park supervisor, "the turnaway problem increases as the summer progresses, with the highest point of use being in mid-August. At that time there could be as long as a three-day wait to acquire a campsite in the park." (There are several privately owned camp grounds in the Big Sur area which are also extremely popular with vacationists and tourists.)

In addition to the activities of camping, picnicking, fishing and swimming in the Big Sur River or the swimming pool where a lifeguard is on duty during peak use only, there are daily nature walks and camp fire programs within the park! Supervisor Royer and park naturalists Al Dockter, Roger Miller, and Marlin Dickey, share their knowledge and interest in the area at these gatherings. The campfire program is every night at 8:30, at the campfire center, and there are two or three nature walks scheduled for each day. Hours and distance to be covered are posted on park bulletin boards. One such walk, "Hillside Adventure," shows how living things are affected by living on the north side of a hill. "Here Yesterday—Gone Today" is a walk and story of the Indians of the Big Sur country. Another, "Elfin Forest," shows the survival of the oaks and the geology of Mt. Manuel on a trail through the chapparal.

MORE THAN 1,000 BOYS will have the happy and rewarding experience of camping, hiking, living at the Pico Blanco Boy Scout Reservation, situated on the Little Sur River in the Los Padres National Forest, during the summer vacation period. Scores of individual scout troops will use the facilities of the beautifully situated camp, located at the end of the Palo Colorado Canyon Road on the Sur Coast. A highly trained staff of men are at the camp to program guidance in the fields of scoutaquatics and field sports

A PROGRAM OF BASIC EN-COUNTER AND MOVEMENT is in progress this week at the Big Sur Hot Springs Lodge, and will conclude tomorrow. Taking part in the week-long workshop are Gilbert David, consulting industrial psychologist and faculty member of the New School for Social Research, and director of Leadership Development, Inc., New York City; Gene-Sagan, clinical psychologist of Berkeley; Consuelo Sandoval, instructor of dance, Dancers Workshop of San Francisco; and Joseph Schlichter, teacher of dance from San Francisco. According to the members of the group, they feel that our gestures and posture, the way we sit and stand and move in relation to others, the way we walk-all of these are fundamental to one's relationship with others.

Sunday, a new program will begin at Hot Springs Lodge. One of the principal participants will be James V. Clark, D.B.A., associate professor of business administration and associate research behavioral scientist, of the Institute of Industrial Relations at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Fritz Faiss, painter and sculptor, will be in residence at the Hot Springs Lodge beginning July 13 and continuing through August 9. During this time he will give individual and group instruction in drawing, painting and sculpture. Mr. Faiss studied at the Bauhaus under Klee and Kandinsky and with Rudolph Steiner. He is a teacher at San Fernando State College and has the distinction of having his works in many private collections and museums throughout the United States and Europe.

ALL SAINTS' BOOK FAIR TO BE HELD JULY 9

Magazines, records, music, pictures, bookcases and bookends as well as books of all kinds and descriptions will be for sale. Coffee will be served from 10 to 11:30 a.m.; lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.; and tea from 2:30 to 4 p.m. by the York School mothers for the benefit of the school. Baby sitters will be available.

MPC Announces Free Film Performances

"Roses for the Prosecutor," the German film which made a clean sweep of three top prizes at the 1961 Berlin Film Festival, will be the second offering in the Monterey Peninsula College summer film series.

The ironical comedy will be shown once—at 8 p.m. tomorrow—in the MPC musical hall. There will be no attendance charge, though, viewers are urged to arrive at 7:45 in order to be assured of seating.

Developing a headline story in-to a delicious spoof with many implications for wide overall satire of West German bureaucracy and the German upper middle class, "Roses" begins in the last days of World War II. A soldier put up for court martial for buying two bars of Luftwaffe-issue chocolate on the black market escapes when a plane attack scatters the execution squad. Years later he akes appropriate revenge against the military prosecutor who had sentenced him to death.

An Austrian short, "Vienna Carousel," will also be shown. Subsequent films in the college's summer series all "comedies" from Europe - are "Inspector General' (Russian) and 'Changing of the Guard' (Polish), July 10; "Lucky to be a Woman" and "Jinx" (both Italian), July 17; and "Love Game" and "You" (both French), July The public is invited by John G. Schaub, MPC summer session director, to attend the series. No

ON and OFF the AVENUES

BY CAROLYN ELSTOB

You know, I'm not really a saint, and I don't go about chastising myself because of my insatiable pride in being a Carmelite, but it has occurred to me that we "old-timers" might, now and then pretend to ourselves that we've just arrived-and besides the seascapes and such take a new look at our distinctive and distinguished shops! The shop keepers themselves are amazing characters . . . and! the wares they sell in their story book shops!!! well no wonder our visitors insist upon gift wrapping "with Carmel label please." \times \times \times

Do you have a Yacker in your home? I don't mean the type who does her hair up in rollers and sends you off to the office with a list of errands to do on the way home. I mean a great big beautiful green yellow and blue parrot whose pet name is "Crackers." It's yours - in The Carmel TOY SHOP or in THE TOY BOX (both shops are under the same ownership). And I assure you if you are two, twenty, or an octogenarian, if you are shopping for the kiddies or just to cheer your foggy days, you'll find toys that will entrance you! Crackers is just one of the plush talking, singing or grunting animals. There's Mr. Ed, the horse; Larry the Lion; Woody Woodpecker; and on and on. Sure they're for children, but what makes you think your I.Q. is so tall, haven't you any sense of fun? There are battery motivated Indians, dogs, steamboats and trains too. And of course world famous dolls, wheel toys, guns, games and such. These two toy shops, wonderfully located for your convenience, are wonderlands of marvelous toys for all ages. CARMEL TOY SHOP, SAN CARLOS and FIFTH . . . THE TOY BOX, CARMEL SHOPPING PLAZA, LOWER ARCADE.

 \times \times \times Right smack in the middle of Carmel Village is that treasure of a shop for young ladies and gentlemen. For infants on up to size 14, there are "don't touch me I'm all dressed for the party" and romp fashions, such as I've never gloated on before . . . The Polly Flinders and Allysa models are really! You can't encourage your Polly to be a fashion fiend, but, after all, she does have her social calendar and in THE CAR-MEL KIDDIE SHOP you'll see not just ribbons and laces, but bewitching cottons with amusing appliques, story-book pinafores, embroidered organdies and vedy dashing ensembles. For little boys, I loved the blouses, shorts and suits. When it comes to playtime togs-there are denims that will take a terrific beating-it's their coloring and styling that you'll find different and Carmelish! Coveralls and overalls, bibs that will make 'em long to eat that cereal . . . and of course a marvelous selection of Carter wear for the wee-est ones. Coats? Sweaters? Of course!! CARMEL KIDDIE SHOP, OCEAN AVENUE, between Dolores and Lincoln.

x x x Where but in Carmel would you find a fashion shop that doesn't look like that? . . . It's really a star's boudoir and I really mean a temperamental star, who changes her mind, her dresses, her accessories and her personality p-p-h-t - like that! FOOTLIGHTS AND FANCY is our cup of tea if you are determined to be the star gal in his heaven. What with the Bach Festival coming up here, Dorothy Dean Stevens is showing l-u-s-c-i-o-u-s formals, floor length, cocktail and hostess affairs. There is a black and white organdy and crepe number, slim, feminine and sophisticated . . . a printed silk organza with a full length Lawrence of Arabia stole - I mean the stole whooshes 'round you . . . Another pure, pure white, the swirl skirt deepbordered with ostrich feathers! A cotton lace, lemon color, demure and devilish. Separate feather and marabou stoles too. Sandals, right out of the rajah's favorite haunt-you know . . . bags, jewelry everything to make you desirous, dangerous after five o'clock! FOOTLIGHTS AND FANCY, Dolores and Fifth, next to the post office parking lot.

I've heard it since I was a toddler and it's pretty, but is it really true? "All God's chillun got shoes . . ." Courtney Brunn of that super-duper MARK FEN-WICK SHOP reely knows that her sports togs can't just end at the knees, that even the smartest slickest pants need a floor finish. That's why you'll see nothing less than Capezio shoes displayed with the Villager, Tanner, Yankee Pedlar and Crazy Horse shifts, sheaths and wayout dresses. They're coordinated, marvelous colors—and you'll find a devastating variety of flats and little heels—all the far famed Capezio models, right across the patio. Courtney is just one of those fashion experts who leaves nothing to chance. Every blooming dress, suit and coat has its companion accessories - jewelry, handbags, scarfs, cummerbunds and belts and Capezio shoes. All for you in the shop that specializes in the casual debonaire look. THE MARK FENWICK SHOP, Carmel Plaza Shopping Center and Stevens Creek Plaza, Santa Clara, too.

'Foreign Languages Are Taught Better Here,' Donald Craig Says After Sabbatical Year Abroad

Carmel High School, as well as other American schools, appear to measure up well in comparison with schools in the western European countries in respect to the teaching of foreign languages, Donald Craig, high school instructor in Spanish, reports after a year's sabbatical study.

However, he observes that in the European schools more individual effort, and work, is de-dividual effort, and work, is demanded from students in both public and private schools. He is of the opinion that the tendency here is, perhaps, to "baby" high school students. In consequence, they may have a harder time adjusting later to college and university demands.

Mr. Craig was in Carmel for a few days recently before leaving to spend the summer in the Trinity Alps and paid a call on the Pine Cone.

He and Mrs. Craig left the United States at the end of last summer. They visited "the western fringe" of Europe during the off-season for tourists. Early this summer, on their way back to Carmel, Mr. Craig stopped at 18 schools across the United States, for study and observation of foreign language instruction.

"No matter how many slides, or movies, you see, they never add up to seeing Europe for yourself," Mr. Craig observes.

The Craigs first spent three months in the British Isles. In Scotland they visited the Burns country. Seeing the Abbey Players perform in their own theatre in Dublin was a highlight of their visit to Ireland.

"We saw every cathedral in England, except Rochester, and didn't get 'cathedral neck'", Mr. Craig says of his stay in England.

The Craigs travelled by bus and train to small English towns and cities for market days, went to museums, large and small, and met a former Carmel High School teacher in Charing Cross station in London.

This was John White, now professor of oriental history at the University of Hawaii, who was on sabbatical leave for research. The Craigs had last seen Mr. White in 1947.

In the Netherlands, Mr. Craig was interested to discover that in order to pass a university entrance examination, Dutch students have to study four languages in addition to their own.

"Who's going to learn Dutch?" they gave as the reason for the requirement to know English, French and German.

However, Mr. Craig noted, Dutch schools until recently emphasized old-fashioned methods and translation, as in England, rather than total comprehension of a foreign language, including speaking it, as we do in Carmel schools . . . and they include Latin in the five required languages.

"Rotterdam is a city planners holiday," Mr. Craig, a former Carmel planning commissioner, comments. The buildings destroyed in World War II have been replaced with ultra-modern construction employing concrete and glass walls, he says. In contrast, Amsterdam was "old-fashioned 17th century," he found.

"I had been waiting impatiently to speak French and see the people's reaction. I had been told they were not courteous to persons not fluent in their own language. But I found them most courteous everywhere, even though my French is not the best," Mr. Craig declares.

He and Mrs. Craig "walked everywhere" in Paris and found automobile drivers courteous.

"The maddest drivers are in London. They make you wait until you grow a beard before letting you cross a street," according to Mr. Craig.

Travel on the Paris metro was delightful. No smoking is allow-

Chairman of the subcommittee on finance is Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels. She has set a meeting of this group for Monday at 8 p.m. in city hall. Other members of this subcommittee are Dr. Remsen Bird, Thomas K. Perry, Henry Fonseca, Mrs. Alastair MacKay, Paul McKinstry, Dr. James Gillman, Miss Dorothy Peacock, Charles Marcolli and Paul Artellan.

On July 29 the three subcommittees will reconvene as a committee of the whole to report progress to Chairman Putnam.

Recommendations for the conversion of Sunset into a cultural and community center will be reported to a joint meeting of the city council, planning commission and arts ocmmission on September 15.

Last night Chairman Putnam declared all Sunset Committee, ed and there are special seats for the elderly, the infirm and and women with babies, he found out.

The Alliance Francaise in Paris, Mr. Craig learned, has 10,000 students. In one "cram" course 15 young Japanese were learning French which contains 70 sounds not included in their own language.

Then came Spain . . . and sunshine after drizzle . . . and almond trees in bloom, everywhere, even though there was still snow on the high mountains.

and subcommittee, meetings open to the public, and also urged citizens to present any ideas they may have to subcommittee chairmen and members.

Mayor Blanks, who returned from military duty at Camp Roberts long enough to open the meeting, told Sunset Committee members that Carmel has never before had such an opportunity to demonstrate that it is a center of the arts, also develop cosmopolitan tastes, as it has in the development of a municipal cultural and community center.

"You have a great task before you," he said in pointing out that the future development of Sunset will have a "far-reaching effect on the community."

Members of the Sunset Committee represent the city council, planning commission, arts commission, Carmel Citizens Committee, Monterey County Symphony, Carmel Music Society, Carmel Art Association, American Federation of Arts, Carmel Business Association, Carmel Hotel-Motel Association, Rotary, Kiwanis, Hi-12 and Lions clubs, American Legion, Carmel Youth Center, Carmel Realtors Association, Bach Festival and Carmel Woman's Club. Added to these are 12 members-atlarge from the community.

Suggested last night was the addition of representatives of the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Harrison Memorial Library Board.

FASHION PARADE

Miss Grace Palmer, newly appointed social hostess of Highlands Inn who is planning a program of daily and evening events for the entertainment of guests and their friends, got off to a gala start last evening when Ted Duffy head of the Seven Seas Swim School in Monterey gave demonstrations as he told of the under-sea wonders off Point Lobos. With a background of salvage diving and underwater photography, the speaker showed films of ancient wrecks on the ocean floor.

An unusual fashion parade is planned for the dinner hour of July 9 by the Rose Brown Shop in Carmel Plaza. Plans are not quite complete but it is promised that professional models flying from San Francisco will show some 40 ensembles with outer fringe accessories for which the boutique is famous.

"When we come to Carmel we spend more money than the people inside the city," Mr. Perry claims.

He points out that this spending results in sales tax revenue to the city and this revenue pays for any fire and police services the city renders to residents of the outside areas when they visit Carmel. Also state gas tax revenue returned to the city pays for the use of Carmel streets by residents of the outside areas.

These two sources of revenue to the city, provided by residents of the contiguous areas, prove that the outside areas are not "parasites" is Mr. Perry's opinion.

However, he admits that, should the unincorporated areas annex to Carmel, there would be benefits to these areas.

"Annexation would give us better fire protection and we have little police protection," Mr. Perry admits.

Property taxes in the unincorporated areas might rise as much as $1.00 per $100 assessed valuation should they join Carmel, but Carmel property taxes are low and the fire and police protection gained by annexation might well be worth the price of admission to the city, Mr. Perry agrees.

He, personally, does not think that residents of the outside areas should criticize the city government. (Mr. Putnam claims "vehement" criticism of Carmel is evidenced by outside residents.)

"If they're not in the city, they should not say how it should be run," Mr. Perry emphasizes, but indicates a wealth of talent for city elective offices lies in the unincorporated areas.

As to the interest in annexation in the areas on the perimeter of the city, he says some residents are interested, some are not.

The committee he appointed Tuesday will ascertain the amount of interest in the matter, he hopes, and at the subsequent public meeting, areas contiguous to Carmel will be given an opportunity to express their views.

"But we're not parasités," he repeated in conclusion.

Eventually quiet settles again over the town, All the picnic parties leave the beach and another birthday of the United States of America is a cherished Carmel memory.

Yesterday Mr. Bair told the board he had informed the county counsel that the board desires to appeal this decision, also that information he had obtained from the county legal office indicated that the writ of mandate issued by Judge Brazil must be complied with, therefore the district must provide school bus transportation to the Paloma creek area next fall at an estimated cost of $375 per pupil.

Mrs. Roxie Blanks, Mr. Neill, Steven Sassoon and Dr. Hilton Bialek then considered retaining a private attorney to defend the district when the transportation case is appealed and decided that Irving Breyer, attorney for the San Francisco board of education, also for the California School Boards Association, should be consulted for advice.

Moral: Keep your savings in the bank

A fast profit is fine for investment capital. But savings are different. They need the complete protection and the steady rate of interest they get at a bank. Your savings won't make any flashy spurts or spectacular jumps, but they'll always be there when you need them. And in the long run you'll find you're ahead when you keep your savings where savings belong—in the bank.
